

Carlos Alzugaray. Retired Cuban diplomat. Professor, University of Havana. Independent political analyst. Member, Writers Association, Union of Artists and Writers of Cuba (UNEAC), and Member, Editorial Board Temas (Topics), Cuban social science & humanities quarterly.

e-mails: alzu-ga@cubarte.cult.cu | carlosalzugaray@gmail.com.

Ricardo Arredondo. LLB (UNT), LLM (LSE), JD (UBA). Professor of Public International Law (UBA). Author of 2012. Intervención humanitaria y responsabilidad de proteger ¿Hacia un nuevo paradigma de protección de los derechos humanos? Buenos Aires: Catálogos; and 2012. Manual de Derecho Internacional Público (dir.). La Ley - Thomson Reuters.

e-mail: arredondo.ricardo@gmail.com

Gabriel Aguilera Peralta, Guatemalan diplomat and academic. Magister Artium in political science from the Albert Ludwig University of Germany, degree in legal sciences from the University of San Carlos of Guatemala. He has been member of the Directive Council of the Latin American Council of social sciences, CLACSO, Director of the Central American program of social sciences of the Central American University Superior Council CSUCA, Professor and researcher at FLACSO Costa Rica and Guatemala, professor in several universities in Guatemala and a visiting professor at academic centers of Latin America, United States, Germany, Spain and Japan. He is the author of 8 books and numerous book chapters and articles on issues of security and defence. Professor Emeritus of FLACSO/Guatemala. He has been Deputy Minister of Foreign Affairs, Presidential Secretary of peace, Ambassador to Germany and Peru, currently in the Netherlands. e-mail: aguileraperaltag@gmail.com

Dolores Bermeo Lara. Lawyer, with a Master's degree in Security, Peace and Defense, currently a doctoral candidate in International Security at the Universidad Nacional de Educación a Distancia (UNED) in Spain.
e-mail: doloresbermeo@yahoo.es

Alex J. Bellamy is Professor of Peace and Conflict Studies and Director of the Asia Pacific Centre for the Responsibility to Protect at The University of Queensland, Australia. He is Non-Resident Senior Adviser at the International Peace Institute (New York) and Fellow of the Academy of Social Sciences in Australia. His most recent book is "Responsibility to Protect: A Defense" (Oxford, 2015).
e-mail: a.bellamy@uq.edu.au

Ana Bourse is a graduate in International Relations. In 2013, she was appointed as Executive Director at CRIES. She is also the Regional Representative for Latin America and the Caribbean at the Global Partnership for the Prevention of Armed Conflict (GPPAC), and Chair of the Preventive Action Working Group. She has facilitated training courses on Planning, Monitoring and Evaluation methodologies; Citizens' Diplomacy and Democratic Dialogue (as joint initiatives between CRIES and UNDP -Regional Office for Latin America); Genocide and Mass Atrocities Prevention, aimed at building local and regional capacities of civil society organizations; and Conflict Transformation Workshops, targeted at governmental representatives in el Salvador, together with Edy Kaufman, during 2010, 2011 and 2012. Between 2009-2013, she has participated in the facilitation team of the academic exchanges between US and Cuban former diplomats and government officials, known as the "TACE Process". She has participated in the validation of the Practical Guide on Democratic Dialogue, a publication of UNDP, the Organization of American States (OAS), in collaboration with CRIES and IDEA. She has authored several articles for the academic journal Pensamiento Propio, and has recently co-authored a training manual to facilitate dialogue processes called "De Socios en Conflicto a Socios en la Paz: Métodos y estrategias para transformar las diferencias en oportunidades para beneficio de todos".
e-mail: abourse@cries.org

Luis Alberto Cordero is the Ambassador of Costa Rica to the Argentine Republic. Mr. Cordero formerly served as Executive Director of the Arias Foundation for Peace and Human Progress and Ambassador at Large to the Permanent Mission of Costa Rica to the United Nations. e-mail: corderocostarica@gmail.com

Claudia Fuentes Julio is assistant professor at IRI/PUC-Rio de Janeiro. PhD from the Josef Korbel School of International Studies at the University of Denver and MA in international relations from the University of Kent, England. Previously, she worked for five years as a researcher at the Latin American Faculty of Social Sciences (FLACSO-Chile) on foreign policy, human rights and security issues with a focus on Latin America. She has taught and lectured in universities in the United States, Latin America, and the Diplomatic Academy of Chile-Ministry of Foreign Affairs. Her current research topics include human rights and foreign policy, Latin American foreign policies, and Responsibility to Protect. e-mail: cfuentesjulio@gmail.com

Kirsten A. Harmon is an Associate at Simpson Thacher & Bartlett LLP in New York. Previously, she held the positions of Princeton in Latin America Fellow and Program Officer with the Arias Foundation for Peace and Human Progress and served as an Expert to the Permanent Mission of Costa Rica to the United Nations in the negotiations of the Arms Trade Treaty from 2009 to 2012. She holds a J.D. cum laude from the Georgetown University Law Center, where she was a Global Law Scholar, and a B.A. summa cum laude from Georgetown University. e-mail: kirsten.harmon@stblaw.com

Alejandro Lening Díaz. Abogado y notario de El Salvador. Trabajó para la Oficina de Tutela Legal del Arzobispado de San Salvador. Ha escrito artículos sobre Memoria Histórica en los periódicos Co-latino y semanarios el Independiente. Y Voces. Actualmente ha conformado y trabaja en la Asociación de Derechos Humanos Tutela Legal “Dra. María Julia Hernández”. También es consultor en temas de derechos humanos para la Procuraduría para la Defensa de los Derechos Humanos de El Salvador (PDDH) y la Fundación de Estudios para la

Aplicación del Derecho (FESPAD).
e-mail: alejandrolening@yahoo.com

Celia Medrano. Fue Directiva de la Comisión de Derechos Humanos de El Salvador y Coordinadora General de la Comisión de Derechos Humanos para Centroamérica (CODEHUCA). Es periodista y realizó estudios sobre Derechos Humanos y Educación para la Paz con la Organización Internacional por el Derecho a la Educación (OIDEL) en Suiza. Diplomada en administración gerencial en el Instituto Especializado de Educación Superior para la Formación Diplomática (IEESFORD). Ha sido miembro del Consejo Consultivo del SICA y representante por Centroamérica de la Plataforma Latinoamericana Prevención de Conflictos y Construcción de la Paz, así como de la red en América Latina del Global Partnership for the Prevention of Armed Conflict (GPPAC). Se desempeñó como Cónsul General de El Salvador en Washington D.C. y como Directora de Protección de Derechos Humanos y Gestión Humanitaria en el Ministerio de Relaciones Exteriores de El Salvador.
e-mail: celia_medrano@hotmail.es

Andrei Serbin Pont. Research Coordinator at CRIES (Coordinadora Regional de Investigaciones Económicas y Sociales). Master's in International Relations from the San Tiago Dantas Program (Sao Paulo, Brazil), Bachelor's in Liberal Arts with orientation in Public Policy from UNSAM and a graduate from the National Defense School in Argentina. Regional Liaison Officer for GPPAC (Global Partnership for the Prevention of Armed Conflict), advisor to the Nexus Fund, ICRtoP Steering Committee member, columnist for DEF magazine and contributor at Forbes, Perfil and Clarín. Research focused on foreign policy, defense, security, human rights, regional integration, conflict prevention and mass atrocity prevention.
e-mail: andrei@cries.org

Andrés Serbin. Licenciado en Antropología Cultural, Mg. Sc. en Psicología Social y Doctor en Ciencias Políticas. Actualmente Presidente de la Coordinadora Regional de Investigaciones Económicas y Sociales (CRIES), Chair de la International Coalition for the Responsibility to Protect (ICRtoP), Chair del Dialogue and Mediation Working Group de GPPAC; Secretario General de la Plataforma Latinoamericana y Caribeña de Prevención de Conflictos y Construcción de la Paz (PLAcPaz), y miembro de la directiva del Global Partnership for the Prevention of Armed Conflict (GPPAC). Es Profesor Titular jubilado de la Universidad Central de Venezuela; Investigador Emérito del CONICYT del mismo país; Presidente Emérito y fundador del Instituto Venezolano de Estudios Sociales y Políticos (INVESP), y actualmente Consejero del Consejo Argentino de Relaciones Internacionales (CARI). Ha sido Asesor Especial de Asuntos del Caribe del Sistema Económico Latinoamericano (SELA) y asesor, en varias ocasiones, del Ministerio de Relaciones Exteriores de Venezuela y de diversos organismos internacionales. Ha sido consultor del SELA, del PNUD y de la AEC, en temas vinculados al área del Caribe, entre otros. Asimismo, ha sido profesor e investigador invitado en universidades de los EEUU, Gran Bretaña y Francia (donde asumió la Cátedra Simón Bolívar en Sorbonne III); y en diversas universidades de América Latina y el Caribe. Ha publicado más de 200 artículos especializados en español, inglés, portugués y francés, y es autor y compilador de más de 30 libros publicados en español y en inglés. Su más reciente libro es Chávez, Venezuela y la reconfiguración política de América Latina (Buenos Aires: Siglo XXI, 2011).

e-mail: aserbin@cries.org

Alfredo Toro Carnevali se desempeña actualmente como diplomático en la Misión Permanente de la República Bolivariana de Venezuela en las Naciones Unidas, Nueva York. Es licenciado en Ciencias Políticas de la Universidad de Georgetown y posee una maestría en políticas y administración pública de la London School of Economics and Political Science. Se ha desempeñado como profesor de postgrado en la Universidad Central de Venezuela y actualmente trabaja en su tesis de Doctorado en Ciencias Políticas de la misma casa universitaria. Es autor de numerosos artículos en las áreas de teoría política y relaciones internacionales.

e-mail: alfredotoro1@gmail.com

